Investment Strategy

Main investment of the Class is Nova Real Estate Fund (CZ) - an AIF, focused on top quality commercial real estate in Central Europe. Commercial real estate represents a typical diversification tool for any investment portfolio. Commercial properties in lucrative locations offer attractive value preservation and stable return for a conservative investor. It invests only in prime commercial properties. Its focus on quality of tenants, attractive locations with enhancement potential and real estate meeting the highest requirements for quality and technical standards are main aspects of the fund investment policy and its value proposition to investors.
